Aulterra Powder Helps You Achieve Greater Health and Balance

Incorporating Aulterra Powder into your daily health protocol can offer an important protective defense against powerful environmental toxins, including certain forms of non-ionizing radiation produced by cell phones, electronics, etc. Adding Aulterra Powder to your current health regimen can boost benefits from all your health products and promote greater healing, harmony and balance.

Neutralizes the Effects of Heavy Metals and Toxins in the Body

Heavy metals in the body produce toxins and it is those toxins that are harmful to human DNA. Studies also show that man-made incoherent EMF radiation is found to compromise cellular integrity and immune function. Man-made 'Incoherent' EMF radiation is highly attracted to heavy metals in our body which compounds these negative effects further inhibiting the body's natural ability to detox.

Aulterra Powder not only neutralizes heavy metal toxins in our body through a process called 'Ionic Exchange' (exchanging positive for negative ions), eliminating their toxifying effect to the body, but also neutralizes man-made incoherent EMF radiation that is being absorbed in the body. By both neutralizing EMF radiation and heavy metal toxins in the body, we reduce biological resistance producing a free flow of energy throughout the body restoring the body's natural ability to detox.

When energy is able to flow freely throughout the body, DNA can actively unwind/rewind, which is a vital component of DNA health contributing to the restoration of cellular integrity and stronger immune response.

How does Aulterra Powder Neutralize radiation and toxic metals?

All particles coexist as waves and all waves coexist as particles. It is also well known that energy cannot be created nor destroyed, but rather changes form. It can be said that the subatomic particles that make up toxic substances also exist in waveform. Another way of looking at the coexistence of particles and waves is to say that matter oscillates between particle and waveform. This way, depending on the detection technology, energy can be 'captured' in either form. Aulterra Powder can help to ensure that the energy is then "captured" in the safe form.

Aulterra Powder™

Aulterra Powder Optimizes DNA Function

For years, DNA researchers thought the double helix that holds our genetic code was a stationary structure. Only within the last few years have these same researchers realized that a healthy, normally functioning DNA is in a perpetual oscillating motion of winding and unwinding, what is known as the quantum oscillation effect. "Quantum" as defined in Taber's Cyclopedic Medical Dictionary is "a unit of radiant energy". Therefore, this quantum behavior produces radiant energy, defined as "emitting beams of light."

This "winding and unwinding" of the DNA is associated only with healthy, normally functioning DNA. DNA exposed to toxins will not behave in this same manner, but rather unwinds a little, rewinds, and unwinds a little. When exposed to Aulterra Powder, human DNA begins to repair itself, eventually achieving the desired quantum oscillation effect. With Aulterra Powder, your body can be in a constant state of healing.

Noted DNA researcher Glen Rein completed a study in which he was able to:

"... clearly demonstrate the ability of the energy from Aulterra's Enhance powder to neutralize the toxic effect of copper on human DNA."

About Aulterra™

Aulterra is a privately held business specializing in the research and development of alternative health products that combat the harmful effects of radiation caused by cell phones, computers, microwave ovens, and other household electronics that emit electromagnetic energy.

Our products have been scientifically tested and verified, our results have been detailed in peer reviewed clinical publications, and our innovative discovery was granted a patent by the U.S. Patent office with over 43 separate claims.
